

Test changing the contents of a table cell, increasing column height

You should see the text "first column" once in the first column, and the text "second column" twice in the second column.

first column	second column second column
--------------	--------------------------------