This is the first paragraph containing some text.

This is the second paragraph containing some more text than the first one. It is used to demonstrate how orphans work. Some additional text to increase the paragraph. And one more extra paragraph with some not so long but really interesting

This is the third paragraph. It has a little bit more text than the first one.